Golden Greg to get his own bus parade

BY DAN PALMER

dan.palmer@mk-news.co.uk

OLYMPIC gold medal hero Greg Rutherford will get his own special celebration parade, council leaders have confirmed.

Greg will take pride of place on a vintage open top bus which will tour the streets of Woburn Sands, the town the Ginger Wizard calls home.

Organisers hope that the roadsides will be packed for Greg's parade, which is expected to be held on Friday, September 28.

We can also reveal that Greg will be honoured with a permanent tribute in the form of an 8.31-metre gold strip in the ground – the distance which saw him grab glory in the Olympic Stadium on August 4.

Town mayor David Hopkins said: "We are thrilled to be doing this, and that Greg has agreed to take part."

The bus, donated by a local resident, will begin its journey at Frosts Garden Centre at 4.30pm, and travel up Station Road, Theydon Avenue and The Leys to Mowbray Green.

It will then be time for speeches and the unveiling of the golden tribute, before the bus continues down Hardwick Road and along the High Street to the Summerlin Centre.

The new gold strip is currently under construction and is described by Cllr Hopkins as a paved area with a gold band running through it.

Each metre will be marked off so children, and enthusiastic bigger kids, will be able to have a go at matching Greg's history making distance.

"You'll be able to see how far he jumped," Cllr Hopkins said.

Greg will sign autographs in the Summerlin Centre and local games makers and volunteers from Woburn Sands, Wavendon, Aspley Guise, Bow and Little Brickhill and Aspley Heath are asked to come forward to involve themselves in the celebration.

Twenty-five-year-old Rutherford, a former Denbigh School pupil, is looking forward to the parade.

He said: "The support has been staggering and I'm looking forward to thanking everyone who helped me to the gold medal."

Milton Keynes Council is also expected to hold a celebration for Greg and the city's other Olympians and Paralympians, but a date has not been confirmed.

City Mayor Catriona Morris has promised an 'action packed' event but details are yet to be released.

Turbine fight is looming

THE council could be landed with a hefty legal bill if it is taken to the High Court by a German windfarm company.

RWE npower Renewables is threatening to take Milton Keynes Council to a judicial review over changes it recently made to its planning policy.

The changes state that wind turbines must be a certain distance from the nearest dwellings, dependant on their size, with the largest needing to be at least one kilometre away.

Now the company has said it wants clarification on the 'confusing' planning rule, and added that there may be 'no alternative' but to challenge the policy in the High Courts.

RWE claims the change conflicts with the council's own policies on wind energy as well as national Government guidance.

Wayne Cranstone, RWE's onshore development and projects director, said: "We agree and support policies that advocate responsibly and sensibly located developments. In this case though we believe Milton Keynes Council has sought to make a significant change to policy without going through the appropriate consultation and scrutiny necessary.

"We are concerned that a planning policy that is contrary to national guidance and has not been through the correct statutory process could mislead local councillors and communities."

A spokesman for the council said it would be inappropriate to comment at this stage.

Tributes are paid to biker killed in collision

BY ANNA MAUREMOOTOO
anna.mauremootoo@mk-news.co.uk

THE wife of a popular motorcycle instructor has paid tribute to her husband who was killed in an accident.

Martin Nurton, of Rushden, Northants, died after he was involved in an accident on Standing Way near Monkston on Friday night.

The 33-year-old ran Horizon Rider Training at The Bowl and taught hundreds of people in the city to ride motorcycles.

Commenting on Horizon's Facebook profile, his wife, Suzanne Simmons said: "Myself and the Horizon team are heartbroken to tell you that my beautiful and perfect husband Martin was taken from us on Friday evening.

"I know he meant an awful lot to a lot of people and I would like to thank everyone for their support.

"Horizon was Martin's passion and we will continue to run it as he would have done."

Flowers have been placed at the roadside where the accident occurred and tied to the gates of the Horizon office.

Many of his old students have left touching messages on the Facebook page.

Matt Des-forges wrote: "My instructor, my inspiration and lucky enough to call my friend.

"Sleep well Martin, I will see you again."

Thames Valley Police are investigating the incident which happened at around 6.15pm.

A green Kawasaki motorcycle was travelling with a black Suzuki motorcycle in the direction of Kingston when it left the road near to the junction of Leominster Gate.

PC Russell Irwin said: "I would like to speak to the driver of a Jaguar that was on the H8 Standing Way and the driver of a grey coloured vehicle that had been travelling ahead of a white heavy goods vehicle just before the collision happened."

Anyone with information call 101.

Turing to feature in new Monopoly game

THE world's most famous code cracker is finally being featured on a £10 note - but you won't be able to spend it in the shops.

That's because Alan Turing's face is actually on Monopoly money as part of a brand new, limited edition version of the popular board game celebrating his life.

The squares around the board, and revised Chance and Community Chest cards, tell the story of the Bletchley Park codebreaker's life.

The game also features elements of the board which was hand-drawn by Turing's mentor's son William Newman, which Turing played - and lost - 60 years ago. That board can be viewed in the park's museum.

Game: The board Alan Turing used (above) and the new board (right)

The special edition game also includes a replica of William's game, never-before-seen pictures of Turing, huts and blocks from Bletchley Park in place of houses and hotels.

The board is available from www.bletchleypark.org.uk, and from the museum shop, with all proceeds going to development of the park.

An e-petition to get Turing on a real £10 note currently has more than 20,000 signatures.

There will be an open day for prospective applicants at the warehouse next Wednesday, from 9am until 3pm.

Geoff Taylor from Blue Arrow said: "River Island is already a large employer within the area, so it is fantastic news that they are recruiting a further 200 new staff.

Council bills for dispute top £57k

BY ANNA MAUREMOOTOO
anna.mauremootoo@mk-news.co.uk

TAXPAYERS' pockets have been hit hard after a boundary dispute between neighbours ended up costing £57,000.

As revealed by MK NEWS, the decision by Milton Keynes Council (MKC) to transfer Willen, Willen Lake and Newlands from Campbell Park Parish Council (CPP) to Great Linford Parish Council (GLPC) cost the council £30,000 when the plans were challenged.

Now figures obtained from MKC show that a total of £57,000 of taxpayers' money was spent on the decision, which was reversed by the High Court under a judicial review.

Isobel McCall, councillor for Campbell Park Ward, said: "The figures came as a shock. I knew they would be high because CPPC understandably challenged the decision and the council incurred costs of more than £30,000 to cover things such as legal costs, but I didn't think it would be as much as it was.

"We cannot ignore the national situation and at a time when everyone has to make cuts this money could be used to support frontline services."

Because the boundary dispute affected the final tax demands, residents in Campbell Park Parish didn't receive their final council tax bills until several months after everyone else.

The cost of sending out a provisional and then a final bill to these residents was more than £25,000.

Cllr McCall added: "I think it was the responsible thing to do to send out a provisional bill when everybody else was sent their final bills and then a final bill in July but obviously this has cost a lot of money.

"The last minute change was politically motivated and ignored a very long process carried out by the council."

Milton Keynes Council confirmed the costs were accurate.

Man injured in mystery attack

A MAN suffered serious injuries during a mystery attack in the early hours of Saturday morning.

At 3.15am police received a report that the victim had been found with head injuries by the side of the Stoke Road that leads towards Newton Longville.

DC James Horseman, investigating, said: "Our inquiry now leads us to believe that the man was assaulted by a group of around three men before they got into a car and drove away.

"I would like to appeal to anyone who was in the area at the time and saw any suspicious behaviour, or vehicles in the rural villages, around the time of the assault, to contact us."

The man, aged 25, was taken to Milton Keynes Hospital where he remains in a serious but stable condition.

Anyone with information should call DC Horseman on the non-emergency number 101 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Leisure centre plan rejected

A CONTROVERSIAL application to replace a leisure centre with housing has been refused.

A planning application was submitted to Milton Keynes Council to demolish Stratfield Park Leisure Centre in Gatecobe, Great Holm, and build seven homes.

But the application was refused because the developer did not submit evidence that the site wasn't viable as a leisure centre.

It was also decided that the development did not fit in with other buildings in the area.

Originally the complex was built for the use of 84 households who are also stakeholders and stand to gain financially if the building is sold. However, nearby residents objected to the plans.

About time there's a tribute to Turing

SIR - I was glad to read in MK NEWS that there is a move to honour Alan Turing in some way (Tribute planned for iconic code-breaker, September 5).

I find it hard to believe that while he has been remembered in and around Manchester, where he worked after the war, there is nothing here locally where he did so much work to help shorten the war and save so many lives.

Yes, he was gay, which was not acceptable in the 50s, but time moves on and attitudes have changed. The fact that he did so much at Bletchley Park far outweighs what was happening in his private life and the latter should have no bearing on how he is remembered.

I happen to work at the park and am fully aware, more than many, how much he contributed not only to the war effort but how he pushed the boundaries of computing and it would be fitting to have a building or, at the very least, a road system named after him; even a statue of him would be more than justified.

This is long overdue as there is one school of thought that believes that not only was he a genius but he was probably the greatest mathematician of the 20th Century; in reality while what he did at Bletchley Park was vital to the war effort it was only a small part of the man's total work in computing science, so why not give him the recognition he so richly deserves?

Backing given to MacIntyre proposals

SIR - In response to your article regarding the MacIntyre centre at Great Holm (Scheme fends off objections, MK NEWS, September 5), I find it disgusting that Andy Dransfield had the gall to object to this proposal on the grounds of size.

We should all be welcoming any improvement to the facilities that MacIntyre provide whatever the size of the building, the help that they give to people in their care is phenomenal.

And as for Dransfield in his position as a councillor he should be ashamed to even question the application, it cannot have any detrimental effect to the area as it will be facing a main road not facing houses.

I wish MacIntyre all the best in their endeavours to provide a better service to the people in their care.

Cabinet reshuffle is a 'green nightmare'

SIR - Milton Keynes MP Mark Lancaster was not the only one waiting with anxiety to know the outcome of the government reshuffle (MP has hopes of a good deal as Cameron shuffles pack, MK NEWS, September 5).

I shared this emotion, though for rather different reasons and in my case the emotion has turned out to be entirely justified.

Ken Clarke demoted, a climate change denier moved to the environment ministry and someone opposed to a third runway at Heathrow moved from her job in transport.

Indeed, a green nightmare come true.

Allegiance 'will be to the Government first'

SIR - Not a reason for celebration, I fear. By becoming firstly a PPS and now a minister, an MP gives primary allegiance to the government and his party rather than to his constituents.

You can prove this by asking him to do something contrary to Government/party interests. I continue to be amazed that voters generally fail to understand this.

Similarly, I cannot understand why the good people of Buckingham would vote to return the Speaker as their representative. It seems quite pointless to me.

Should complainers be given an ASBO?

SIR - With regards to the article Pipe down! Noisy vandals lose park, MK NEWS, September 5.

At the turn of the century I was visiting my mother in Sunbury at the home where I was brought up (my mother died about a year later). She shushed me and asked what could I hear.

I said: "Well nothing."

"But Brian there are more than a dozen youngsters in this street, it's the holidays. Why can't we hear them?"

Does this relate to the problems of the park?

Should the people that complained about the noise be given ASBOs as an offence against youth? (After all, Jesus Christ was pretty assertive about complaints against children)

MPs vote against a cap in train fares

SIR - I note that both our illustrious MPs have voted against a cap on train fares. We have the most expensive rail network in Europe.

Perhaps it's time MPs paid their own fares, instead of being funded by the hard-pressed taxpayer. These two constantly toe the party line. While petrol goes through the roof, MPs get their money back; while rail fares go through the roof, MPs got their money back.

We are not in it together.

LETNET enables us to trade our skills

SIR - I have been interested in the debate regarding a local currency and would like to inform your readers of a local currency scheme that has existed in Milton Keynes for more than 20 years.

Milton Keynes LETNET, (Local Exchange and Trading Network) is a thriving network of individuals who skill share and barter with the aid of a local currency which is known as CCs (or concrete cows!).

Members trade skills as diverse as DIY, IT support, complementary therapies and garden produce and we pay each other in our own local currency.

MK LETNET is also a vibrant social network and we regularly host events to enable members to get to know each other and therefore facilitate trading.

Free swimming for under 16s and OAPs

SIR - I'm writing to remind readers that free swimming at Bletchley Leisure Centre for pensioners and children under 16 has recently been extended to all residents who live in the area served by Bletchley and Fenny Stratford Town Council (MK1 and MK2 postcodes).

As a recently elected councillor to BFS Town Council, I was delighted to second this motion.

Meanwhile, residents in West Bletchley (MK3 postcodes), can now enjoy free swimming if they are disabled or unemployed (free swimming for pensioners and under 16s has already been in place for West Bletchley residents for the past two years).

Again, I was delighted to propose this extension of free swimming.

With local councils increasingly under financial pressure to make cuts, free swimming (which is funded by both Bletchley parish councils) is an easy target, particularly if it is under-used.

I am therefore urging residents to take advantage of this free service and show their support.

Remember, swimming is a great way to keep fit and healthy, and learning to swim could literally save your life.

Recently, I have been approached by a few residents who have experienced difficulties registering for the scheme at Bletchley Leisure Centre.

If you are one of them, then please can you get in touch with me so that we can iron out any hiccups and make the process as simple as possible.

I can be contacted on MK 373989 or via either of the parish councils.

Warning given after series of burglaries

A SPATE of burglaries across the city has led police to warn residents to be vigilant.

The first took place on Friday between 9.30 and 9.50pm, when thieves got through an insecure window into a house in North Tenth Street, CMK, and stole a white Dell Inspiration laptop.

In a daytime raid items including food and a computer were taken. It happened on Monday between 3pm and 6pm in Rhodes Place, Oldbrook. Offenders went in through an unlocked back door and stole a black Acer laptop, a black Toshiba Camileo X400 camcorder, flower-shaped gold earrings, a gold link necklace, £250 cash and frozen food.

Another burglary took place on between 5pm and 10.45pm in Reeves Croft, Hodge Lea, when a door key was stolen. Police fear there could have been other, unreported incidents.

DC Wendy Cissell said: "I would like to speak to anyone who may have seen anyone acting suspiciously in the areas around the times of the offences. Perhaps you were another victim and you haven't reported this? If so, we need to hear from you.

"I would like to remind residents to be conscious of their home security."

Worried: Commuter Lucy Hunt and Cllr Rob Middleton at the closed new station in Wolverton

Fears over future of £2.2m station

BY ADAM GRINSELL

adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

CONCERNS a brand new £2.2million railway station could be 'closed by stealth' have been raised.

Commuters and politicians have been contacting Wolverton railway station operator London Midland to try to ensure the future of the building.

They have complained that the station has 'rarely' been open for the last few weeks.

Complainants have been told that if the ticket office in the newly-built station is unmanned, the building itself must be closed.

That means commuters cannot use the brand new facilities including toilets, vending machines, and a new seating area to shelter from the elements.

Town resident and IT consultant Lucy Hunt commutes from Wolverton to various destinations for work.

She said: "I am surprised how often our new station at Wolverton is closed – in the last month I have rarely seen it open.

"What happens to other people who needed travel advice, railcards or season tickets renewing or cannot find the right ticket on the machine?"

The station is one of those subject of an application to Government by London Midland to operate shorter opening hours, but ward councillor Rob Middleton is concerned the recent problems could be a sign of things to come.

He said: "What's two weeks closed going to turn into? Three weeks? Four? Four months?

"So that's why we are worried it's being closed by stealth."

Mark Lancaster MP has also been in touch with the company following concerns.

Although the company did not comment by the time MK NEWS went to press, an e-mail sent by London Midland bosses to complainants including Labour parliamentary spokesman Andrew Pakes says the closures were due to a member of staff being on holiday and opening should now return to normal.

It also says it is unable to recruit staff to cover while it is in consultation with the Government over office opening times.

Former patient pushes appeal total over £50,000

A FUNDRAISER that started out as a small celebratory barbecue turned into a two-day spectacular which raised £6,000 for a cancer appeal.

The weekend-long event at Great Brickhill Cricket Club included a raffle, a family fun day and charity cricket match, and was organised in support of Milton Keynes Hospital's Touch of Pink Appeal.

Irene Roff from the village decided to support the appeal for £80,000 for an x-ray machine after receiving treatment for breast cancer at the hospital.

Irene, who was diagnosed in November 2011 and whose treatment ended in May, was so impressed with her standard of care she decided to support the breast unit's appeal.

She said: "It seemed the perfect opportunity for me to say thank you and give something back.

"Everyone from the receptionists to the surgeons are fantastic, and they all bend over backwards for you. It makes a huge difference when you're going through treatment. I can't think of a better cause to support, especially as it's local, too."

After handing over the cheque, Irene was delighted to discover their donation pushed the appeal total over the £50,000 mark.

For information on donating to the Touch of Pink Appeal, or any part of the hospital, contact Vanessa Holmes, fundraising manager on 01908 826690 or drop the hospital an email at fundraising@mkhospital.nhs.uk.

Postbox trip: Paula Grant (left) starts her quest to see all the Olympic gold post boxes with a visit to London

Mum's mission to visit gold boxes

BY ADAM GRINSELL
kirsten.rawlins@mk-news.co.uk

A CITY mother has been so inspired by the sensational summer of British sport that she is touring the length and breadth of the country – in search of gold Olympic postboxes.

The London Olympics and Paralympics have touched many but few more so than Paula Grant, who is using her journey to celebrate the memory of her two children.

There were two significant dates during this year's Olympics for Paula, July 29, when her son Leigh would have been 27, and August 4, when daughter Hayley was due to turn 29.

Hayley was sadly stillborn as a result of spina bifida and Paula lost Leigh to heart problems two years later, at the age of just six weeks.

The anniversaries mean that summer is often a tough time but Britain's gold rush changed all that and kick-started her own challenge which will see her visit all 103 gold postboxes – painted in tribute to every Olympic and Paralympic podium topper by the Royal Mail.

She said: "After the Olympics, I just wanted to make the great feeling last.

"The days would usually be spent moping around for the loss of my two children, but instead I had laughter and tears over the sportsmen and women taking part.

"I became hooked on Team GB and now I am on my own challenge to create my own legacy and memories of London."

Paula's journey has already begun and the box for MK's own Greg Rutherford is among those that she has already ticked off her list.

There will be a fair few miles to do though, as gold medallists came from as far apart as Penzance in Cornwall and Lossiemouth in northern Scotland.

Overseas travel will also be required, thanks to Isle of Man cyclist Peter Kennaugh and Channel Islander Carl Hester, whose box after his team dressage success is on the tiny island of Sark.

Many have asked to sponsor Paula and if you would like to do so, visit www.shinecharity.org.uk or www.bhf.org.uk.

'Disproportional' police stop and searches have been addressed

A SCHEME to improve the use of controversial stop and search tactics by the police has succeeded according to officials.

Thames Valley Police had been criticised as it could not justify why it was previously stopping and searching a higher proportion of black and Asian people.

This led the Equality and Human Rights Commission to ask the force to sign a legally-binding document in which it agreed to tackle the disproportionate use of the powers.

That agreement yesterday came to an end, but the commission has said it will continue to keep an eye on the force.

John Wadham from the commission said: "We are greatly encouraged by the efforts of Thames Valley Police.

"The force's results show that the police can use intelligence to target stops and searches better. We hope their example will result in better policing, and, in turn, increased public confidence in the service."

The force said training has been provided to officers, and that rigorous scrutiny and monitoring is in place - all of which has been praised by the commission.

Assistant Chief Constable Richard Bennett said: "Overall use of 'reasonable grounds' stop and search has reduced by a large proportion for members of all racial groups and race disproportionality has decreased."

Councillor's anger over election loss

Election defeat: Alderman Paul Bartlett

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

A COUNCILLOR has lost his seat after he triggered a by-election by failing to fill in an official form.

Angry Alderman Paul Bartlett wants an investigation into the circumstances around his defeat last week.

He lost out to rival June Payne who will now represent the South West seat on Stony Stratford Town Council.

A by-election was called after Mr Bartlett failed to fill in an acceptance form for the seat which he won unopposed in May.

He now says that he will be referring a number of people, including councillors, to the Standards Board which investigates whether codes of conduct have been broken as he feels they 'contrived' to remove him from his position 'whatever the cost'.

Mr Bartlett said: "The whole process could have been stopped but that was not done. If I could get the money I would look at having the election being made null and void."

Mr Bartlett controversially hit the headlines around the world last year when he proposed a blanket smoking ban in all public places in Stony Stratford, and earlier this year was suspended from being a councillor after the Standards Board ruled he had broken the council's rules.

There was even a vote in Milton Keynes Council as to whether he should have his honorary Alderman title removed. The vote failed.

But the former Conservative Party member, who is now moving out of the town to live on a canal barge, said he does not want to end his time serving the town on a sour note.

He said: "I'm disappointed with the result but I thoroughly enjoyed contributing to the community of Stony Stratford and working with a lot of very good people.

"What I want to do now is get involved in other community projects."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Billy Harley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Bedford, Milton Keynes & Leighton Buzzard areas and Billy is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Billy a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Ministerial role for city MP in reshuffle

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

THE city is now represented by a minister for the first time since Milton Keynes had its own MP in 1983.

Mark Lancaster, MP for Milton Keynes North, was promoted in Prime Minister David Cameron's Government reshuffle last week.

As predicted by this paper, Mr Lancaster has been rewarded for his work since his election in 2005 in a number of positions including shadow whip and, until Wednesday, a Parliamentary Private Secretary for International Development.

He will now fulfil the roles of junior minister in the Ministry of Defence and Lord Commissioner for Her Majesty's Treasury - which he admits he had to look up to work out what his job would be.

"It's a very ancient title that goes back to Tudor times," he told MK NEWS. "Kings and queens set up a commission of five or six people so no one person could start diverting their money to another place.

"So we act as a check and balance. One of my jobs is to counter sign very large cheques for the Government." The role also means his primary duty will be as a senior whip, managing the Government's business in Parliament, and means he will be working under former International Development boss Andrew Mitchell who is now Chief Whip.

Delighted: MP Mark Lancaster

Mr Lancaster insists his role will not distract him from his business in Milton Keynes, saying that he is still primarily the city's MP.

"This promotion is only a positive. We've got a great situation where the city is represented by two MPs," he explained.

"I know Iain Stewart will continue to be vocal, and as a minister I suppose I get more direct access to my ministerial colleagues, and I can raise issues with them in a way I couldn't before.

"This is an extra string to the bow, where we have a level of influence we didn't have before."

New home rules not the answer for MK

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
editor@mk-news.co.uk

THE Government's new relaxation of planning rules on extensions 'won't make a hell of a difference' for Milton Keynes.

Councillor David Hopkins, cabinet member for economic development, said city builders are already busy with extension projects, and that the real issue is the need for banks to provide more loans for first time buyers and property investors.

For a limited period, possibly until 2015, the relaxation will allow people to build larger ground floor extensions on houses, and is intended to provide more help for first time buyers with the development of more affordable homes.

But Cllr Hopkins doesn't think relaxing planning rules will help matters in the city.

He said: "From an MK perspective, it isn't the amount of land available that is the problem as there is planning permission for 28,000 dwellings still to be built, and if you consider the whole housing stock, more than 100,000 dwellings, that's 25 per cent-plus growth waiting to happen.

"What the Government needs to focus on is banks loaning, and enabling local authorities to be able to build council houses again."

Planning views: Cllr David Hopkins

The Local Government Association supports this view, as it has figures showing a backlog of 400,000 prospective homes nationally which have received planning permission but have not yet been built.

The changes will also mean homeowners can now build larger extensions, up to eight metres long for detached houses, without the need for planning permission.

Cllr Hopkins warned: "The relaxation does also throw up the potential to take advantage. There should still be a referral at the town and borough council level."

He added that he is concerned that the Government is panicking.

"The issue is people feel insecure in their jobs and they don't have the confidence to invest," he said.

"However the house extension market hasn't been stalled in Milton Keynes.

"People are staying put and investing in their property as they can't afford to move up in the market, so extend.

"Local builders have got more work than they know what to do with.

"From an MK perspective the relaxation of planning won't make a hell of a difference."

Bikes snatched from busy shop

Robbed: Shop manager Alex Pink with a Giant trail bike similar to one of the models that was stolen

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

BRAZEN thieves rode out of a busy cycle shop on two brand new mountain bikes worth a total of £1,800.

The duo struck on Sunday at Roy Pink Cycles in Newport Pagnell as staff were serving customers. They were chased into the town centre but managed to get away, even though the rear tyre of one of the display bikes was flat.

The thieves, believed to be in their mid-20s, stole a silver and orange Giant Roam 1 worth £950, and a silver, black and blue Giant Talon 0 29'er which costs £850.

Shop manager Alex Pink said: "When the theft happened my staff were a bit busy although they did notice two people who seemed to be eyeing up a couple of bikes.

"The next thing was the guys heard tyre noises on the wooden floor and realised what was going on. Some of the staff ran out of the shop after the thieves but it was too late and the two of them managed to get away."

The suspects are believed to have been caught on the shop's CCTV cameras before they escaped into the town centre. Film appears to show the thieves planning the theft and their get away. Police are expected to examine the footage this week.

A campaign to catch the thieves has been started by the shop on its Facebook page.

Mr Pink added: "It's been amazing, all as a result of modern media. The response has been great, which is down to it being a popular shop."

He added that since their campaign was started, many customers and residents have provided identification with 'one guy seeming 100 per cent sure' of who it was.

A witness to the robbery said on Facebook: "I rode past as the Talon was leaving the shop. The back tyre was flat. I thought that was odd."

Thames Valley Police are investigating.

20 Years of recycling across the borough

The Pound left the European Monetary Mechanism, polytechnics became universities and Ebenezer Goode by the Shamen was at Number 1 in the music charts – to many of us it may seem like yesterday, but it was 20 years ago in September 1992, the month when recycling was launched across the whole of Milton Keynes in one of the first borough-wide schemes of its kind in the UK.

Always at the forefront of innovation in recycling, the council had two years previously launched a recycling pilot scheme covering Great Linford, Gifford Park, Neath Hill, Pennyland, Bolbeck Park, Willen Park, Downs Barn and Downhead Park. These recycling pioneers had helped fine-tune a scheme which required residents to use blue and red boxes to sort their recyclable waste.

Newspaper and magazines were collected in the red box, while food and drink cans, plastic bottles and glass went in to the blue box. These were then collected by a separate recycling vehicle and hand sorted by recycling operatives on the kerbside into a number of compartments. This was clearly a distinctive service with recycling collectors wearing a different uniform and collections taking place on a different day. While it may seem crude by today's standards, at the time it was considered ground-breaking.

Following the success of the pilot scheme, the decision was taken quickly to roll it out to the rest of the borough, making Milton Keynes one of the first boroughs in the UK to provide door to door recycling services for all residents.

From such humble beginnings which saw just 3.5% of waste recycled, we now recycle almost 56%. Over the past 20 years we have saved over 550,000 tonnes of waste from going to landfill. The introduction of the pink sacks and the one-pass refuse collection vehicle ten years ago made our recycling scheme a whole lot easier – and now we accept so many different types of materials in the pink sacks, meaning there is very little left to go in the black sacks.

Real Nappy Information Evening

Milton Keynes Council's Recycling Team invites you to attend a real nappy information evening to learn more about the benefits of modern washable nappies – including saving money and helping the environment. All welcome including parents, parents-to-be, midwives, health visitors, childcare workers and other interested parties.

DRAMA: An actor performs the 'porter' scene from Macbeth at Westbury Farm

Fun finale to 'culture' fest

BY ANNA MAUREMOOTOO
anna.mauremootoo@mk-news.co.uk

A FANTASTIC four days of free events across the city marked the end of the MK Summer of Culture.

Arts and heritage venues across the borough opened their doors for a range of fun activities during the four Heritage Open Days.

In total, 61 events took place, including free entry to Bletchley Park, while audiences at Westbury studios enjoyed a selection of playlets by William Shakespeare on Friday.

Milton Keynes celebrated an action-packed Summer of Culture as part of the Cultural Olympiad and the International Festival, with events taking place across the city from May to September.

Key players involved in bringing this huge celebration together were Milton Keynes Council, Fringe MK:Westbury, the Parks Trust and Destination MK.

Jackie Inskipp, general manager of Destination MK said: "It's gone incredibly well. "I'm quite confident that this event will continue in the future."

Public back me, says ex-madam

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

A FORMER brothel madam says she has been swamped with support for her controversial views on prostitution following an appearance on national TV.

Madam Becky claims '75 per cent' of people online and in e-mails have backed her stance after she was on ITV's This Morning show last Wednesday.

Mum-of-two Becky Adams, from West Bletchley, was challenged to a showdown by journalist Angela Epstein over comments that she would rather her daughters went into the sex trade than banking 'because they would have better ethics'.

On the show Ms Epstein said: "I don't think you should even be opening the door for the conversation – it means we open the door for young people to sell their bodies for sex."

Madam Becky defended her position, and claims three quarters of people commenting on the internet and over e-mail have generally warmed to her way of thinking.

Speaking exclusively to this paper after her TV appearance, she said: "Some people who said they didn't agree with me before can now see my point, and are thinking about it in a different way."

SUPPORT: Becky Adams

As previously reported by MK NEWS, Madam Becky made international headlines when she said she'd teach her daughters Emilia, 17, and Abigail, 23, how to run a brothel – but she doubts they would want to follow in her footsteps.

She added: "Neither of my daughters want to become prostitutes. They already have other career plans.

"However to avoid having this kind of conversation with our daughters at all is far more dangerous than to talk to them about the subject."

Ms Adams is now working with Swansea University to study reasons why students are drawn into the sex industry. The aim is to provide help and advice to young people.

A second chance to get high street cash

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

TWO town centres are getting a second chance at winning a cash injection to boost business.

With 371 bids and 12 pilot places each receiving £100,000, it was unfortunate that Bletchley and Wolverton were unsuccessful in their applications to be part of high street queen Mary Portas' rejuvenation scheme.

But since then the two town bidding groups, Bletchley and Fenny Stratford Town Council and Wolverton Steering Group, have been offered another opportunity to apply for £10,000 to help their high streets as part of the Town Team initiative.

This second scheme's aim is for 'no high street to be left behind'.

Representatives of the two groups stressed their support and excitement to being given a 'second chance'.

Lisa Courtney, from Bletchley and Fenny Stratford Town Council, said: "I think it's brilliant, we already have what could be an embryo of a town team with local businesses, market traders, council members and the public all planning our Love Bletchley days.

"In our Mary Portas bid we planned to run a night market and maybe run Bletchley day ideas at night too, finding ways of regenerating Bletchley."

Both towns' original Mary Portas applications are being reassessed, with the most important issues being identified as areas where the £10,000 could potentially be spent.

Money talks: Bletchley is launching a bid to get money to rejuvenate its high street

The scheme also encourages local MPs to take the lead and show their support by themselves becoming Town Team Partners.

Marie Osborne, from Wolverton Steering Group, said: "It's fantastic news but we are not going to assume it is guaranteed.

"I have a strong feeling that what Wolverton needs is engaged businesses involved in the community.

"Mark Lancaster has been very supportive and I am seeing him this week to sign off the submission of our application."

MP challenged to shop blindfolded

Raising awareness: Cllr Padma Cheriyan has challenged Iain Stewart MP to join her in CMK wearing a blindfold, as part of the action against disability reforms

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
editor@mk-news.co.uk

A CHALLENGE has been issued to a city MP to spend a day as a blind person.

Councillor Padma Cheriyan, 73, is campaigning for blind and partially sighted people's needs to be better recognised by the Government.

Cllr Cheriyan, a member for Bletchley and Fenny Stratford Town Council, is visually impaired, and this affects her day-to-day activities.

So she has now invited MP Iain Stewart to go to shopping in Central Milton Keynes with her and walk around the shops and supermarkets blindfolded.

She said: "Because it is an invisible disability, people don't always understand the problems we have.

"People I know can come up to me, but I don't recognise them.

"It's not like having a leg or arm missing, as this disability still enables you to go shopping on your own, but people don't see that I have to depend on others."

Cllr Cheriyan is hoping this experience will provide Mr Stewart with a better understanding of the disability before he votes in Parliament in the autumn on changes to Disability Living Allowance (DLA).

In April 2013 the DLA is to be replaced by a new benefit called Personal Independence Payment (PIP) for eligible working age people from 16 to 64.

Cllr Cheriyan feels the new PIP fails to recognise sight loss as a serious disability.

Mr Stewart said: "With close family members being registered blind and having a long association with charities supporting people with visual impairment, I'm always happy to work with anyone to ensure that people get the support they need.

"Since my election, I've regularly met with members of the Physically Disabled & Sensory Impaired Consultative Group and brought the Minister to meet with them to discuss their concerns.

"I have already taken part in demonstrations of what it is like to carry out day-to-day tasks while being visually impaired."

Cllr Cheriyan's campaign is also in support of RNIB.

Stage schools queue to sign young dancer

Stage school place: Hope Wadman, 18, from Heelands

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
editor@mk-news.co.uk

A DANCER from Milton Keynes has been offered places at not one, not two, but five of the most prestigious stage schools in the country.

Hope Wadman, 18, from Heelands, received places at top performing schools Stella Mann College, Reed College, Performers College, Bodyworks Company Dance Studios and Masters Performing Arts College.

And before she had even finished her studies, she was accepted into the American Musical and Dramatic Academy (AMDA) in California. Unfortunately mum Nicola couldn't afford the £23,000-a-year fees.

Hope's dance teacher Suzanne, who has taught her at SB Dance Academy in Shenley Brook End School for three years, worked with her on her dance audition solo piece.

She said: "I must admit when she first came she lacked confidence, but after the first year of teaching her you could see a complete difference as her confidence grew.

"She also sings and is an actress as well, a complete all-rounder."

Hope said it was really hard to choose, but accepted the offer from Masters Performing Arts College in Essex, recognised as one of the leading dance and musical theatre colleges in the country.

She added: "After my studies I would like to travel on cruise ships as I can do what I love and see the world.

"If I had the opportunity I'd like to do a bit of everything, from music videos to musical theatre."

Charity cyclists are ready to roll

BY DAN PALMER
dan.palmer@mk-news.co.uk

A DAUGHTER whose Dad suffered a heart attack is to embark on a challenging bike ride in aid of those who helped his recovery.

Claire Kennedy, 32, is heading up a seven strong team who will be riding from London to Brighton to raise valuable funds for the British Heart Foundation (BHF).

Her father Dave underwent successful double heart bypass surgery ten years ago and both of her parents now regularly attend an evening fitness class organised by the BHF Bletchley group.

"The support we received from the BHF was amazing and the Bletchley group is fantastic," Claire, from Deanshanger, said.

"They work so hard for the members they support, people like my Dad. Seeing the benefit of this work first-hand has inspired me to take part in this bike ride and help fight heart disease."

Fiona Tyler, Sue Atkinson and Karen Robson, who like Claire, work for Santander in Milton Keynes, are also on the team which has been named the Flamin' Dynamos.

Joining them on the challenging 75-mile journey on September 22 will be Claire's husband Tony, Sue's friend Annette and Karen's son Elliot. Training is well underway as the team will need plenty of pedal power on a tricky course which includes both cycle and forest paths.

Team members: Tony Kennedy, Claire Kennedy and Fiona Tyler

"My husband made me cycle to London the other day," Claire added.

You can add to the group's fundraising efforts by visiting www.justgiving.com/flamin dynamos.

Homeless visit to MP in Parliament

Residents meet MP Mark Lancaster

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

FIVE homeless men have been given an exclusive glimpse of life in Parliament.

The residents of the Fishermead Hostel supported homeless scheme were cordially invited by Milton Keynes North MP Mark Lancaster.

He asked the Orbit Heart of England temporary residents to take the tour following his visit to Fishermead Hostel's temporary accommodation earlier this year.

Mr Lancaster met the residents when they showed him around the hostel in April. Because of their enthusiasm to learn more about the MP's role and the workings of Parliament, he invited them to visit and gain a better insight.

Kath Chiles, Orbit Heart of England support provision manager, said: "During Mr Lancaster's hostel visit we stopped at a picture on the wall of the Houses of Parliament, and he pointed out his office.

"This led to discussions about his role and the workings of Parliament, and an invitation to London for our residents to see it for themselves."

Johar Ullah was one of the five residents who took part in the visit.

Johar's time at Fishermead has provided him with the support he needed to overcome alcohol abuse, mental health, parenting and anger management issues.

He is now ready to move on to independent living and is awaiting the outcome of his application for housing.

He said: "I was very impressed with the time Mr Lancaster spent with us, he even bought us all coffee and sat down to chat. I really enjoyed the day."

Orbit Heart of England's Fishermead supported scheme helps homeless adults to work towards independent living.

The hostel provides 20 single occupancy rooms for homeless adults with support needs and offers residents a range of social activities to encourage community integration and promote self-confidence and motivation.

Tom stars in one man's battle against the law

TOM CONTI, star of stage, screen and TV, returns to Milton Keynes Theatre in Rough Justice, a powerful courtroom drama with enough twists and turns to confuse even the sharpest criminal lawyer. JUDY RILEY talked to Tom about the play, as well as his career, his political leanings - and his unusual DNA.

Q: What is it about courtroom drama that appeals so much?

A: Gosh, that's it - it's drama: somebody is accused of something dreadful. You want to know what's happened. The court is an alien environment but there are people who are courtroom junkies. Inside a courtroom theatre is played out and barristers are performers.

In the case of Rough Justice, the character I play, James Highwood, is accused of a murder but it's a most unusual murder. He has admitted the crime. The emotional content is very high. It's an arena that no-one would like to see themselves in. The play is all about one man's battle against the law. Terence Frisby, the writer, draws a distinction between fairness and the law. But it is a really entertaining evening. It's got laughter and comedy and it's a witty play.

Q: Have you ever felt daunted or out of your depth in your professional life?

A: Not out of my depth but certainly in the wrong ocean. The worst experience for me was a production of an Arthur Miller play The Ride Down Mount Morgan. It had terrific promise, the play was sold to me on the first scene alone but the play fell apart after that and the production was catastrophic.

Q: What about the high spots?

A: The highlights of my career are things that have been successful. When you are starting off the aim is to find the big lily pads which are the writers' talents. I was terribly lucky at the beginning because I worked with writers such as CP Taylor, Alan Ayckbourn and Freddie Raphael.

Tom famously played Costas Caldes, the Greek heart-throb who seduced Liverpool housewife Shirley Valentine.

Q: That film was enormously popular and it is still loved more than 20 years later, how was it for you?

A: I had an immensely good time working on that film. Pauline (Collins, who played Shirley Valentine) and I have been friends for many years. Art doesn't ever change anything but it pushes civilisation forward. That one movie did something for society. It suddenly made people look at each other again, people who had forgotten that lovely girl or that handsome man they married. We don't age in our minds or personality, we still think in the same way.

Son of an Irish Catholic mother and an Italian hairdresser father, Conti almost gave up acting when his wife, actress Kara Wilson, was pregnant with their daughter Nina (now a successful actress and ventriloquist). He was about to return to Scotland to study as a mature medical student but a part alongside Paul Scofield in Christopher Hampton's play Savages at The Royal Court meant that the world was deprived of what surely would have been a famous bedside manner. "Thousands of lives were spared, and everything changed from that moment," he said.

Scotland's loss was England's gain. In 2008 he considered standing as Conservative candidate for the London mayoral elections but Boris stepped up to the plate.

Q: So, like his fellow compatriot, actor Sean Connery, does he not support the idea of Scottish Independence?

A: It's a catastrophic idea. No, I'm not nationalistic at all. But I do have some of Napoleon's blood coursing through my veins which is very rare!

A recent DNA test has shown that, through his father's line, Conti is directly descended from the French emperor. So it comes as little surprise that the Oscar-nominated actor, who was voted Most Popular West End Actor of the last 25 years and was a close friend of Diana, Princess of Wales, has no time for reality TV shows such as I'm A Celebrity, Dancing On Ice and, the one he recently turned down, Strictly Come Dancing.

Q: Would you ever be tempted to take part in that kind of populist, reality TV?

"I can't bear them" he shivers.

That'll be a 'no' then.

THE Paralympics closing ceremony brings this fantastic summer of sport to a close.

With Olympians and Paralympians alike making us cheer until we're hoarse, cry with emotion and pack us with pride, excitement, awe and wonder, London 2012 has been a historic event we'll always remember.

Seb Coe's vision of 'inspiring a nation' has been achieved – as the 2012 Games end and we celebrated Team GB's success with their parade on Monday, it leaves us all wondering what our own personal best is.

I promise that if you dedicate some time every week you can take the first steps to your PB, changing your body shape and reaching your own golden goal.

I often tell my clients to find their body inspiration and place a picture of this individual in a location where you are constantly reminded of what you are trying to achieve.

Choose your inspiration – Jonnie Peacock, Laura Trott, Bradley Wiggins, Jessica Ennis, Ellie Simmons – and pin them up.

They also had to start somewhere and look what they've achieved.

Whether you're a games geek who wants to get going, busy mum who wants a smaller bum, or sporty sort who wants to reach that golden goal, now's the time to seize the moment and get active.

If you want help to learn how Olympians kick start their training and celebrities achieve those killer curves, then check out my Matt Roberts' Training with You programme.

Take your first steps to your personal best.

Call Conviviality on 01428 788 070 or e-mail mattroberts@conviviality.com.

Personal trainer MATT ROBERTS urges readers to take full advantage of the wave of pride and emotion created by the Olympics and Paralympics to set and achieve their own health and fitness goals

THE popular It's Comedy night returns to the Sno!Bar at Xscape tomorrow night, and it looks like a cracking line-up.

On the bill is Mitch Benn (pictured), star of The Now Show and The One Show, who makes regular appearances as Steve Wright's 'Ask Elvis' character on Radio 2.

Joining him is Joel Dommett, who recently appeared on 8 out of 10 Cats, Russell Howard's Good News and Channel 4's Skins, and Ed Gamble, who featured on Dave's One Night Stand and supported Greg Davies on his UK tour.

Tickets are £10 and doors open at 7pm. There's more information at www.its-comedy.co.uk.

sandlerstinker

ADAM Sandler has been in some quite good films, such as The Wedding Singer, but he has also appeared in his fair share of stinkers.

The last movie we saw him in was Jack and Jill, an effort so bad that it won in every category at the Golden Raspberry Awards – a ceremony which celebrates the very worst in cinema.

Sadly, That's My Boy – his new release which is out this week – is not a return to form.

Sandler plays Donny, a neglectful parent who causes chaos at his son's wedding (yes, it's yet another film where there's a wedding).

Donny hasn't seen his boy for ten years but needs to get back in touch as he has run into financial difficulty.

It's supposed to be a comedy but it's childish rather than laugh-out-loud funny.

These days it seems like Sandler isn't really trying.

wintickets

WE have teamed up with STIHL, one of the world's leading garden and outdoor power tool brands, to offer one lucky reader the chance to win a pair of VIP Weekend passes to watch motorcycle racing at Silverstone.

STIHL are proud sponsors of the 2012 MCE British Superbike Championship for the fifth consecutive year.

British Superbikes is one of the country's most popular and exciting motor sports, with top-class riders, like last year's champion Tommy Hill, reaching speeds of around 200mph.

Much of the appeal of Superbikes is the bikes themselves, which are factory-backed versions of ordinary road bikes, enabling fans to really appreciate the skills of riders and technologies alike.

Spectators at Silverstone can expect a full day's track action with the two Superbike races forming the highlights of the day.

STIHL, the outdoor power tool company, is an established brand among builders, foresters, landscapers and groundsmen for its robust and high quality outdoor power tools.

STIHL is also fast becoming a household name with gardeners and home owners with a growing range of petrol and electric products suitable for their use.

High performance products and great results – the synergy between STIHL and Superbikes is clear.

ALBUM REVIEW

THE latest offering from Luxembourg troupe Mutiny on The Bounty is a fine hybrid of nu-wave indie rock 'n' roll with a hint of 80s electronica.

The band, made up of Cedric Czaika, Clement Delporte, Nicolas Prezeor and Sacha Schmitz, are inventively bold throughout the album 'Trials' – offering something different to their peers.

The energetic track 'Artifacts' bellows with angst and rebellion, with frontman Schmitz sounding a little like Lostprophets' Ian Watkins as the guitar-heavy track hits all the right notes.

The band are not frightened to go against the grain with some tracks, most notably 'Myanmar' and 'North Korea', leaving the instruments to do the talking.

In the case of 'North Korea' this is a pity as the fusion of guitars and twinkling electronic beats sounds very promising but misses the all-important human voice.

Overall, 'Trials' is a good solid compilation album which draws similarities to the Klaxons and Bloc Party with a hint of 30 Seconds to Mars thrown in.

The end result make Mutiny on The Bounty certainly worth a listen.

Mutiny On The Bounty is at the Craufurd Arms on September 14, 7.30pm.

Tickets cost £5.

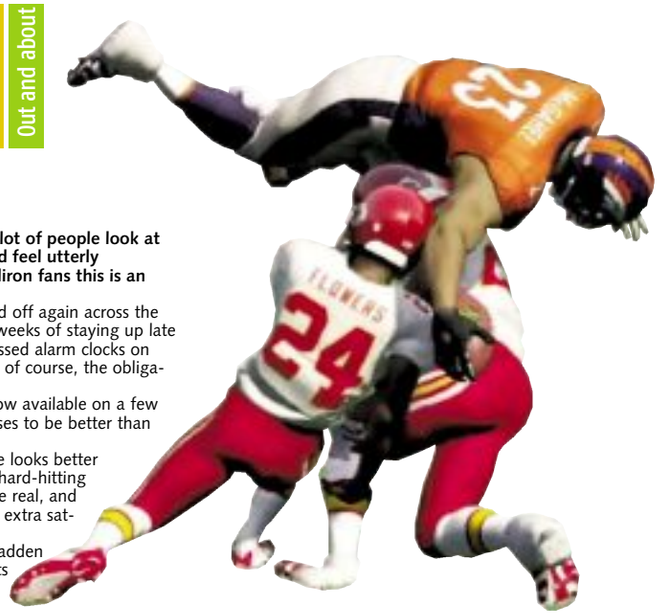
gameon



IT'S fair to say that a lot of people look at American Football and feel utterly confused, but for gridiron fans this is an exciting time of year.

The season has kicked off again across the pond and that means weeks of staying up late to catch the action, missed alarm clocks on Monday mornings and of course, the obligatory computer game.

Madden NFL 13 is now available on a few platforms and it promises to be better than ever.

For starters, the game looks better than ever, so all those hard-hitting tackles feel all the more real, and every touchdown feels extra satisfying.

Sport legend John Madden (who gives the game its name) is back again to talk you through the action and offer some sound advice.

If the NFL is your religion, this game could easily become your bible.

James Welling's 'Summation'

IT'S time for a new exhibition at MK Gallery – James Welling's The Mind on Fire.

This is the first solo display in the UK for the American artist, and there's about 130 pieces of work to enjoy in all.

The exhibition will recreate some of the artist's seminal photographic shows from New York in the early to mid 1980s, charting the development of his abstract language and experimentation with photographic effects.

Welling has tested the parameters of photography by experimenting with the technical properties of cameras and photographic equipment, from making his own camera out of a shoe box to experimenting with a wide range of photographic film and papers.

The Mind on Fire brings together a group of works that display the experimentation of this period in the artist's career, including collages, paintings and notes.

In particular, look out for the impressive small scale prints made from minutely crumpled aluminium foil.

The exhibition runs until November 25.

THIS weekend is your chance to rock out and enjoy the best bands and live music from the area, with the first Peartree convention.

At The Old Rectory in Peartree Bridge on Saturday from 1pm-8pm, and hosted by charity Inter-Action MK and Most Excellent Music, the best established, new and emerging live talent will be showcased.

With a line-up including the Secret Screens, the Baron Makabre Band, Ammonia Lisa, the Consequence and Haddon Beats, the event promises to be one of the city's biggest musical celebrations.

Tickets are £5 or £4 concessions, and under 16s are free. Call 01908 678514.

For the full line-up see www.mk-news.co.uk.

Tell me about the club?

Eddie: The club has been running now for over 7 years and from 3 different venues in Northampton. The phenomenal success of the club means we are now bringing Jindokai Karate to families in Milton Keynes. I am the Chief Instructor and have been doing a variety of martial arts for over 16 years. All the instructors in the club are AMA qualified, CRB checked and insured.

So, what's your take on karate?

Eddie: Well, Karate is an excellent self defence system. Now days (in my opinion) there is too much focus on sport karate which tends to favour the young and athletic. Whilst there is a sport element to our 'syllabus', we focus more on karate's roots, which is self defence. That's why Jindokai karate is suitable for all the family.

What will people get from your classes?

Eddie: Well, if you take on board the principles I have mentioned, my students will become physically fitter, mentally stronger, and have the tools to deal with an attack on the street.
My philosophy is 'one club'. We teach adults and children together encouraging family participation. This is something that has worked so well for our club. How often do children and parents learn something together as equals? Our club is a wonderful way for families to come together to do something positive, healthy and that offers a vital skill set. Kids love learning with their parents.

Our classes are also a superb vehicle to help defend against cardiovascular disease, weight gain, diabetes and stress related illnesses.

Finally, Martial arts are great for teaching us a basic lesson in life. With effort, desire and belief you can achieve most things. This is especially important for children to learn.

Is your style of karate different?

Eddie: Firstly, let me say that I would encourage everyone to take up a martial art as long as it is with a good instructor. I am not of the opinion that there is only one way. There are no bad martial arts but there are bad instructors and clubs! To answer the question, I cannot comment on what other instructors teach but what I can say is Jindokai is a very special organisation. It is full of experts in different martial arts keen to share their knowledge. Students will learn punches, kicks, blocks, evasion, locks, takedowns and even some ground grappling. Not only will they learn Karate but Aikijutsu, Goshin Jutsu and Kobudo!

Learn the ultimate in self defence

JINDOKAI

Karate for ALL the family

Our qualified instructors will also teach you: Aikijutsu, Goshin Jutsu, Kobudo

Get your brand closer to people's lives

No other medium is as close to people's hearts as Regional Press. Consumers consider it an integral part of their community.
The effectiveness of regional press advertising in driving sales comes down to the simple fact that people prefer to do most of their spending close to where they live.
Consumers' Choice II, a national consumer survey by TNS Media, found that regional press advertising is the most frequently acted upon, with 81% of people responding to it.
No wonder brands enjoy a closer relationship with consumers when advertised in this, the most trusted and effective medium of all.

THE COUNCIL OF THE BOROUGH OF MILTON KEYNES

(FOOTPATH NUMBERS 71 AND 73 WOLVERTON (PARTS) ADJACENT TO RADCLIFFE SCHOOL, WOLVERTON) (TEMPORARY CLOSURE) ORDER 2012

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Council of the Borough of Milton Keynes intends, in not less than seven days from the date of this notice, to make an Order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984. Its effect will be to temporarily prohibit all access along those lengths of Footpath Numbers 71 and 73, Wolverton that run adjacent and to the rear of Radcliffe School, Wolverton from the junction with Stratford Road, Wolverton continuing in a south-easterly direction for a distance of 520 metres to the south west of Radcliffe School, Wolverton.

The Council is satisfied that the temporary closure is necessary to enable works to be carried out, to enable a perimeter fence to be erected because of the likelihood of danger to the public whilst a new footpath is constructed within the new housing development. It is anticipated the temporary closure will commence from Monday 24th September 2012 until 23rd March 2013, inclusive.

The alternative route for access will be to continue along the existing footpath on Stratford Road, Wolverton to its junction with Great Monks Street, turn left onto the footpath on Great Monks Street and continue to its junction with Greenleys roundabout, then turn left and join the redway and vice versa.

There will be no exemptions from the provisions of this Order due to safety reasons.

The proposed Order will come into operation on 24th September 2012 and will continue in force for a maximum period of 6 months or until the likelihood of danger to the public has ceased, which ever is the sooner. If the danger to the public persists up to the maximum period stated, a further Order may be made with the consent of the Secretary of State.

Any person committing a breach of the Order will be liable upon prosecution to such fine as is prescribed by the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Philip McCourt

Assistant Director – Law & Governance 12th September 2012

WALSALL 1 (HOLDEN 17) DONS 0 - LEAGUE ONE - FULL REPORT AT WWW.MK-NEWS.CO.UK/SPORT ATT: 3,657

No goals: Alan Smith's has a go, while Karl Robinson and Mick Harford plot a way through, inset

Boss backs goal shy Dons

KARL Robinson backed his team to turn pressure into goals after his side drew a blank for the third away game in a row.

Dons have looked impressive at home this season, picking up fine wins against Oldham, Blackburn and Carlisle, but outside of Milton Keynes they are suffering from a mild travel bug.

Robinson's men are still awaiting a first away victory after a 1-0 defeat at Walsall on Saturday, their third successive reverse by this scoreline on their travels after unsuccessful trips to Swindon and Northampton.

The Walsall game, which was settled when Dean Holden turned home a first half corner from close range, brought about strong feelings of deja vu after the Northampton defeat in the Johnstone's Paint Trophy on Tuesday night.

For the second game in a row Dons enjoyed a lot of the ball in the final third, but they were again unable to turn that pressure into goals.

Robinson said: "We didn't take our chances and we know that, but the boys will go away and make sure they put that right.

"I don't think there was a lack of effort, we just didn't turn our chances into goals. David (Martin) hasn't had a save to make."

Despite 15 corners there was a lack of a cutting edge and little potency, although Dons were denied by the woodwork on two occasions and a goal line clearance on another.

Walsall, to their credit, defended heroically to maintain their slender advantage, particularly Holden and centre back partner Andy Butler who ensured that there would be no way through.

As one of the league favourites, Dons will have a target on their backs, and sides will endeavour to stop their famed passing football from reaching full flow.

The visitors poured forward in the second half after a more even first, but Walsall bodies crowded the box and stopped attacking moves in their tracks

Saddlers players parked the proverbial bus with great success and Dons were not inventive enough to pick the lock.

Home keeper David Grof didn't have too many saves to make as move after move petered out in frustration.

Some would suggest that playing two strikers would be the answer to the problem, but Robinson would no doubt counter by saying that his prefered 4-2-3-1 system was responsible for over a century of goals last season.

In any event, it is too early for alarm bells just yet even though football fans are nervy creatures at the best of times.

There are now two home games in a row to look forward too, against early high flyers Yeovil and Notts County, and two victories would undoubtedly return smiles to faces.

Robinson, who described the performance as unacceptable, said: "If you score the first goal the game becomes a much easier challenge for you.

"If you don't score or take your chances, the back four start getting despondent, the opposition start gaining in confidence and the home fans start gaining some confidence as well.

"Ultimately, it's backs against the wall for the second half.

"We've not started off great away from home, we know that. We've not won away yet and we've got to make sure we turn that around.

"The boys have a duty of care to the badge, and the chairman who pays their wages, to come back and put a performance in for the next two games, and that's me included.

"I've got a duty of care to this football club to up my game as well."

Striker Ryan Lowe has scored once this season after his arrival from Sheffield Wednesday but Charlie MacDonald and Jabo Ibehre are still awaiting their first goals.

Alan Smith could be used as a forward and he certainly gave the team more presence as a second half substitute against Walsall.

The players were given Monday and Tuesday off this week with Robinson saying it would be good to disconnect from the squad.

"They'll come back in and we'll have a right good go," he said.

A DOUBLE from Aaron McLeish ended Newport Pagnell's FA Cup hopes in the First Qualifying Round on Saturday.

The Chalfont man struck in each half, either side of a Daniel Hughes goal, to condem the Swans to defeat.

Darren Dykes and Jordan Spruce were on target for Newport, who had beaten Reading Town and Ardley United in earlier rounds.

Elsewhere, Stony Stratford Town drew 3-3 with Codicote in the South Midlands Division One, but in the same division New Bradwell St Peter suffered a 5-1 home defeat to Southall.

In Division Two, Wolverton Town drew 2-2 at home to Totternhoe, but Old Bradwell United lost 4-3 to Coddington.

Northamptonshire Cricket League Premier

STONY Stratford (186 all out) lost by 99 runs to Wellingborough (285/9) who flourished thanks to Christian Davis' 103. Rob Keogh's 61 was in vain for Stony who fell short in their chase.

Andrew Ellemore was the pick of the Stony bowlers with figures of 3/36.

Cherwell Cricket League Division One

ALREADY relegated Bletchley Town (154 all out) ended their season with a six wicket defeat against Oxford Downs (155/4).

A superb knock of 85 from Bletchley's Raj Lall was not backed up by his team mates as Oxford got home with overs to spare.

Town finished ninth in the table and will now compete alongside Wolverton in Division Two.

ATHLETICS

SEPTEMBER heralds the start of the Tour of Milton Keynes – six races in six days which add up roughly to a full marathon distance.

The winner was Dan Webber, who won both the Tattenhoe Park 11km and the Brickhill Woods Hill Race on days one and two.

On day three Matt Clarke pipped Webber into second at the Potterspury Cross Country Race and Tom Comerford took the honours on day four after a mile at the Stantonbury track.

Peter Mackrell won a five mile Campbell Park race on day five, and Clarke picked up a second win on day six after six miles at Willen Lake.

Assistant boss MICK HARFORD write exclusively for MK NEWS every week

This week Mick uses the international window to share some thoughts on the England team...

I HONESTLY believe that the manager of the England team should be English, so I was delighted when Roy Hodgson got the job.

He was my manager when I played for Bristol City and back then, although he was a lot younger, he was still very well drilled and very enthusiastic.

Roy worked with Bobby Houghton and the pair of them were the two and up and coming coaches of the time.

They both went abroad and managed some magnificent clubs, enjoying some great success together.

I think that Roy deserves his chance but it is a very difficult job.

For me, English football is very much in a transitional period and it will take a long time to get back to where we want to be.

There is a limited squad of players to pick from but, having said that, I think Roy is doing a great job so far.

He'll get the best out of the players he does have and I'm sure they will run the extra mile for him.

England should be more than capable of qualifying for the World Cup but once you are there it is a different kettle of fish.

We get to a certain point in tournaments and then come up against one of the big boys in a crunch game and come unstuck.

I think it will take a hell of a lot just to get to a semi-final or a final, although we nearly got through against Italy in the Euros this summer, without playing particularly well.

I'll always be thankful to Bobby Robson for giving me a chance in the England squad during my career.

I was involved in and around the squad for about 18 months and in the end I won two caps in games against Israel and Denmark.

Bobby was a great manager of the national team and it was a massive honour to play for my country – I'll never forget it.

RUGBY UNION

Olney 24 Milton Keynes 17

OLNEY claimed an opening day derby victory by seeing off near rivals Milton Keynes in the Southern Counties North.

In the end, neither side managed to play their best rugby, but it was hosts Olney who made the most of the opportunities which came their way during the game.

Olney capitalised on two scrappy scrummages to score two tries in the first half, but Ashley Hill was driven over by the MK pack to bring City back into contention.

Phil Powell converted and cut Olney's lead to just two when he added another penalty, but some sloppy work allowed the home side to score a simple try straight after the restart. Another Olney try further confirmed their dominance, but Dan Rolfe added a consolation for MK.

Elsewhere, there wasn't good news for Bletchley who lost 57-3 at Reading to slip to a second defeat in two games in the South West 1 East.

TRIATHLON

TEAM Milton Keynes were crowned as English club champions at Emberton Country Park on Sunday.

One of the team members was 76-year-old Jim McKellar, who triumphed in his age category and inspired the team name for the day - 'Old Bullet'.

The club tactically put together a team with a range of age-groups to make sure they got the best points position. Phil Melling, Richard Ashton, Jordan Mackie, Tracey Haseldine and Corinne Price also took part.

TABLE TENNIS

ANDREW Baggaley's England saw off Slovakia 3-1 in their opening European Championships qualifier.

The city table tennis pro beat Samuel Novota 3-0 in the third game with the tie nicely poised at 1-1, handing England the initiative.

He cruised to a 2-0 advantage, leading all the time during both games, and then recovered after being 7-4 down in the third to win it 11-8.

Earlier, Liam Pitchford had defeated Michal Bardon but Paul Drinkhall slipped up against Lubomir Pistej. After Baggaley's win, Drinkhall returned to the table to beat Bardon, sealing the tie. England now face Romania on Tuesday.

SWIMMING

CITY of Milton Keynes swimmer Emma Joyce took part in her first Olympic distance 10k (6.2 miles) open water swim at Bray Lake in Windsor on Saturday, and was the first woman home in two hours, 14 minutes.

Strong debut: Jordan Hedley takes the man-of-the-match plaudits after he kept Telford at bay

Jordan on fire as Tigers draw blank

LIGHTNING comfortably saw off English Premier League (EPL) rivals Telford Tigers 3-0 in their first friendly match ahead of the new season.

It was a near perfect night for Nick Poole's men on Saturday, with home fans witnessing a debut goal for newly signed goal machine Adam Calder and a superb first performance from 16-year-old net minder Jordan Hedley.

Calder, added to the roster from Slough Jets to provide more firepower, opened the scoring on the powerplay following a goalless and uneventful first period.

Nick Chinn, Chris Wiggins and Dan Harris also made their first starts in Lightning colours, putting in strong performances.

The second goal came just 68 seconds after the first, when Adam Brittle connected with a Blaz Emersic pass to double the home advantage.

Hedley is the youngest Lightning player by some margin and only just old enough to skate under current EPL rules.

He has a big future in front of him and a had a big moment in his first senior appearance after Ross Green was judged to have impeded the Tigers' Patrick Greene, leading to a penalty shot.

The teenager managed to stand firm to force the onrushing Hedley to shoot wide, and Lightning added the finishing touches to their win nine minutes into the final period.

Leigh Jamieson got his name on the scoresheet after he latched on to Brittle's cross, and Hedley went on to record a memorable shut out.

The youngster is one of three net minders in the squad, alongside Alex Mettam and Stephen Wall.

Concentration now turns to the annual challenge matches with near neighbours Peterborough Phantoms this weekend.

Known as The Ashes, the games are always hotly contested even though there is only local pride up for grabs.

Lightning are the defending champions, with this year's home leg set for Planet Ice at 7pm on Saturday, with the away leg in Peterborough on the Sunday, with a 5.30pm start.

FORMULA ONE

Italian job is not a good one for RBR

BOTH Red Bull Racing (RBR) drivers failed to finish as the Tilbrook based team suffered a disastrous Italian Grand Prix.

It's the first time since Korea in 2010 that RBR have failed to pick up a point, with the result denting the championship chances of both Sebastian Vettel and Mark Webber, who now find themselves fourth and fifth respectively in the standings.

Victory for Lewis Hamilton at Monza has seen the McLaren man jump into second spot, but championship leader Fernando Alonso, who finished third, has now stretched his points advantage at the top to 37 points.

Reigning champion Vettel is 39 adrift, but failed to finish in Italy because of an alternator problem.

This is the second time this season that the German has withdrawn because of this issue, following a similar occurrence in Valencia, and Team Principal Christian Horner later admitted that the reliability problems were proving to be extremely costly. He later described the grand prix as an 'extremely disappointing race'.

Vettel had earlier caused controversy after making his way up the field from a fifth place start, thanks to a move which forced Alonso's Ferrari onto the grass on lap 26.

He was given a drive through penalty which later had no baring on the result.

Australian Webber also retired late on after a spin seriously damaged his tires, completing a day to forget for Red Bull, who must now focus on the Singapore Grand Prix.

Vettel said: "I found out I had a problem roughly 300 metres before I stopped."

"It was an alternator problem, similar to the one we had the previous morning.

"The drive-through incident was decided and happened, so there's not so much to say about that.

"We lost some points today, but we did the best we could – you could see that our pace was not as strong as the leaders.

It had been a good race for us given the lack of pace. There are not so many long straights at the next couple of circuits, so we can challenge there."

Webber added: "Towards the end of the race, I had no rear tyres left and I was pushing reasonably hard.

"Nico (Rosberg) was coming on his fresh two-stop tyres, so I had to keep pushing and staying on it.

"For the sake of getting a couple of points, maybe I shouldn't have pushed as hard."

PARALYMPICS

Veteran Munn has no plans to announce his retirement just yet competition, particularly because of Anderson's influence.

He said: "We lost twice against Canada but they are the best team in the world.

"Against the States we came up short, but they didn't play that well. We were just worse."

Munn, 44, has dismissed any thoughts of retirement as he still loves and enjoys the game.

He took part in Monday's parade of athletes in London and is delighted that Paralympians are now receiving mainstream attention.

"I've not thought ahead to Rio but I don't aim to retire," he said.

"Seeing that many people at the parade was fantastic.

"People were chanting for the Paralympians and knew them by name, so we are getting out there."

Elsewhere, the city was represented by 14-year-old wheelchair fencer Gabi Down, pictured, who competed against opponents more than twice her age in the women's team competition on Friday.

Great Britain were defeated 45-26 by Hong Kong in their quarter final and they then lost 45-28 to Russia and 45-33 to France in classification matches, meaning an eighth place finish overall.

Gemma Collis, 19, and Justine Moore, 20, competed alongside Down in a youthful British line-up.

Gabi, who has targeted multiple Paralympic appearances, said: "It's been an amazing first games."

•City footballer Alistair Patrick-Hesleton got on the scoresheet as GB's seven-a-side cerebral palsy team lost 4-3 to Argentina in a classification match to decide who finished between 5th and 8th in the tournament.

In the end the hosts came seventh, thanks to a 3-1 victory over the United States, who they also defeated 4-0 in the group stage.

Patrick-Heselton claimed an assist in that victory but two earlier defeats against Ukraine and Brazil meant that they couldn't progress to the medal matches.

Weekend to forget for Red Bull

Frustration: Try as they might, Dons could find no way through at Walsall. More analysis on page 66.

Paralympics were awesome for Munn

SIMON Munn narrowly missed out on a medal with the Great Britain wheelchair basketball team at London 2012, but the tournament is something that he will never forget.

The former Radcliffe School pupil, a veteran competing in his sixth Paralympics, showed leadership qualities throughout the competition as the hosts agonisingly finished in fourth, just outside of the medals.

After qualifying from their group in third position, Britain saw off Turkey 75-70 in Wednesday's quarter final to guarantee themselves a medal match.

The colour they would compete for turned out to be bronze after a 69-52 semi-final defeat to eventual champions Canada, who are spurred on by Patrick Anderson, considered to be the best player in the world.

Munn already has two bronze medals and a silver back at home, but he could not add to that as the United States triumphed in the bronze play-off 61-46.

He told MK SPORT: "We were so close and it was disappointing not to medal.

"But the games themselves were absolutely awesome, it was special.

"I've been to Paralympics like it before, but not when everyone has been cheering for you."

Canada also beat Britain in the group and Munn said that they were on another level to everybody else in this year's

Robbo vents frustration at officials

BY DAN PALMER

dan.palmer@mk-news.co.uk

A FURIOUS Karl Robinson said he might tell his players to copy underhand tactics used by the opposition as he again aired his frustrations about officials.

A 1-0 defeat to Walsall on Saturday meant that Robinson's men have now slipped to successive away league defeats and although the manager gave full credit to the Saddlers for their display, he could not keep feelings of annoyance about the men in black bottled up.

Robinson, who has already been angered this season following four red cards in the opening four games, believes that other sides are getting away with things which his team are frequently called up on.

Speaking after the Walsall defeat he said: "I'm going to start telling the players to maybe start doing what other teams do, to go to ground when you get touched, roll around and stand in front of the ball when you are not allowed to, because people seem to be getting away with it.

"If we make a challenge or mistake, we get punished automatically and immediately for it."

Robinson said he was told after the game that his side would have been given a penalty if Dan Powell had gone down in the box instead of honestly opting to stay on his feet.

And he argued that a nudge from midfielder Darren Potter resulted in a free-kick against his side, where as a similar Walsall foul resulted in the referee allowing play to continue.

"We didn't have one foul in the first half," Robinson said.

"I don't think I've seen a game of football when a team has not had a foul. That's remarkable, and we had all of the ball.

"We don't know what he was thinking with some decisions."
